Charleston County Public Works Accepting Comments on the Fort Johnson at Camp Road Intersection Improvements Project

Project website: <https://roads.charlestoncounty.org/projects/james-island/johnson-camp-meeting.php>

Charleston County Public Works is recommending an alternative design for the Fort Johnson at Camp Road Intersection Improvements project. After analyzing four alternatives, including a no-build option, the County recommends the construction of an urban compact roundabout at this James Island intersection. To view the design plans, history of the project, other considered alternatives and frequently asked questions, individuals can go to <https://roads.charlestoncounty.org/projects/james-island/johnson-camp-meeting.php>.

Public Works has provided a public comment form at the bottom of the recommended alternative page. The project team asks citizens to submit any comments or questions by filling out the form. For additional information, please call Public Works Transportation at (834) 202-6137.

Located in the Town of James Island, Charleston County has identified the need for intersection improvements along Fort Johnson Road (S-94) at Camp Road (S-28). The primary goal of this project is to increase safety for all modes of transportation while improving traffic flow. This project is funded through the 2016 Transportation Sales Tax program.
